Propolis – Naturally produced by bees, and used for centuries to promote wellness, it has been shown to offer numerous health benefits for the immune system and beyond. New, proprietary, clean-extraction methods are used to make a line of propolis products with unmatched quality and consistency.

New PROMUNEL Ultra Performance Propolis delivers best-in-class benefits from sustainable, standardized, naturally-occurring bioactive polyphenols.

PROMUNEL IS OPTIMIZED PROPOLIS

YOU'RE GETTING THE BEST PRODUCT ON THE MARKET TODAY.

- Tightly controlled raw materials – Raw material selected and produced under strict protocols from a limited number of global suppliers.
- Finished product standardized to 6 key marker polyphenols – Propolis contains more than 300 active molecules act synergistically to support immune function. B Natural's patented M.E.D. (Multi-Dynamic Extraction) process standardizes PROMUNEL to 6 marker polyphenols, preserving and optimizing the synergistic effect of the most important active constituents found in native propolis. Unlike commodity propolis, PROMUNEL's consistent fingerprint of polyphenols delivers precise dosing of bioactive constituents, with reproducible results
- Purification & Refining – Waxes, resins and other inactive and undesirable compounds are removed, creating powder and liquid extracts that are more potent, highly bioactive, and water-dispersible.
- Sustainability – B Natural is committed to extracting value and quality from nature (particularly from beehives), combining an ethical approach with environmental protection.

Performance backed by research

Propolis and its bioactive constituents have been studied extensively and shown to support human health through multiple mechanisms of action – particularly in maintaining healthy immune function. Propolis ingredients are among the fastest growing in the immune health category. B Natural extracts are available in both liquid and solid forms, and offer quality and consistency unmatched by any other propolis, allowing ease of formulation and final product benefits that lead to hot-selling products.
